Advocating for Your Black Child

A Class for Black Caregivers of Black Youth

Advocating for Your Black Child (A4YBC) is a free, 8-week psycho-education series held online for Black parents and caregivers of Black children & youth living with Mental Health, Neurological and/or Learning Differences. Offered in a virtual group setting so that you can safely and confidently connect with other Black Parents.

The A4YBC curriculum provides a wealth of practical resources. It was designed specifically to support the Black family in navigating school, political, and social systems for your child. The course is taught by licensed clinicians, physicians, other health professionals, and instructors with lived experiences that inform their understanding of advocating and parenting the Black child.

Free Online Class. Space is limited.

Please note that Parent Education classes facilitated by licensed professionals are widely recognized within the state of California by county courts and government agencies. If you are court-ordered to take a parenting class, please contact your county court of record, lawyer, case worker or court administrator to verify their acceptance of the online Advocating for Your Black Child (A4YBC) classes. Each state, county, and individual judge may dictate different requirements.
